Opera Days in Yerevan

The "EventToura" company is looking for a partner to organize opera and classical music days in Yerevan. We want to launch a project which will make an opera more accessible to the wider audience, especially to the youth.

One of our goals is to make young opera artists and new operas recognizable by the classic opera lovers and young generation. By targeting the youth, we help rejuvenate and revive the opera. Being more aware about the opera, young people will appreciate its importance much more. The other not less important mission of this project is to make opera available outside of the opera theater by organizing street performances.

Our team believes, this cultural exchange will have a positive impact on intercultural development. This project will help discover new opera trends in different cultures, strengthen cross-cultural relations and increase awareness.
